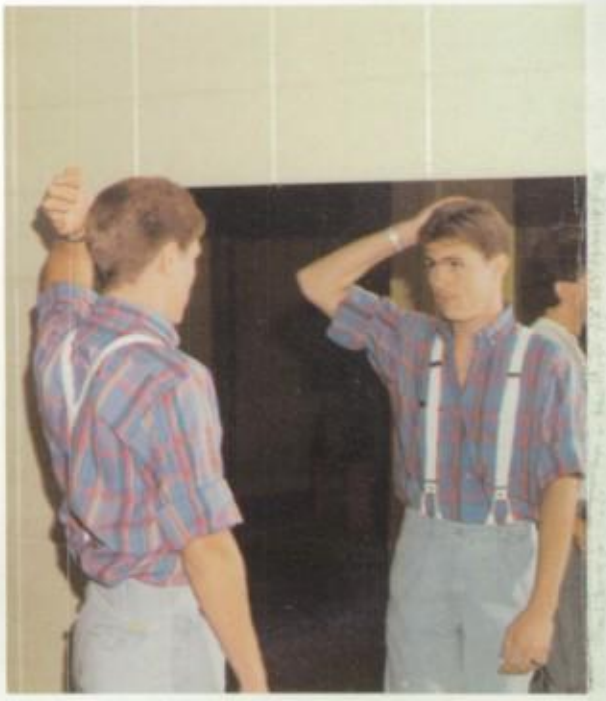
Total chaos doesn't happen everyday but when it does occur seniors Chad Cowan and Mitchell Cothran find their only alternative is to beg to "check out!"

The social life in the commons area seems to be the highlight of everyone's day. David Dillon, Micheal Pursley, Stephanie Iglehart, Danita Hibbs and Shane Maddox display their enthusiasm between classes.



The mirrors in our school reflect reflect who we are. They reflect our Mirrors reflect the images we portray own image and watches the actions of Smith, and Kevin Faircloth. The mirrors Marshall County High School.

Marshall County's tardy rules are strict but Kevin Bowman, Chris Griggs, Chad Barrett, Mirizi Jones, Jennifer Wallace, Gena Bratcher, and Brian Hurley try out their best excuse on Mr. Thomasson.

Check us out! We are the senior class of '88. We made our first move as sophomores; and now as seniors, we've finally made it to the crowning line on the checkerboard of high school life. We've learned strategies needed to defeat our opponents, and we're now ready to move on to a whole new game.

Remember that first day of school three years ago? We thought we would never find all our classes. We were terrified of the upperclassmen, and the school seemed huge and menacing. As the year progressed, however, we realized that it really was possible to make it from the East wing to our upstairs class in less than five minutes — as long as we didn't stop to Check out our friends along the way.

This year we were reluctant to start school, despite the fact that it was our senior year. "The summer was too short," "The time went too quickly," and "I didn't get everything done that I planned," were just a few complaints heard on the opening day of school.

But once we realized that we had to stop complaining and start getting used to the fact that our last year in high school was beginning, we discovered that it wasn't all bad. We were reunited with our friends we had missed over the summer, and we excitedly CHECKED out the new fashions for the year. We had dances, football games and weekends to look forward to; and some of our classes were actually interesting!?!

Even though I complain about homework and tests, complete with the teachers' X's and 's, I am really going to miss high school. The past three years have been full of fun and excitement. (Not to mention learning.) I will miss all the great people, good times and overwhelming spirit that combine to make MCHS the best. For years to come, when I think of MCHS, I will see the color orange and remember the year I checked out of high school forever.

Pizza Hut is a popular hangout for Marshall County Students. Amy Lovett, LeAnn Northcott, Katherine Lewis, Jennifer Riley, and Kelli Anderson gather there to gossip after school.

Dana Pea and Seth Curtiss are just "pickin' and a grinnin' " as they chum around after a hard day's work.

Michael Cross finds pleasure relaxing in the usually crowded commons, which is now empty.

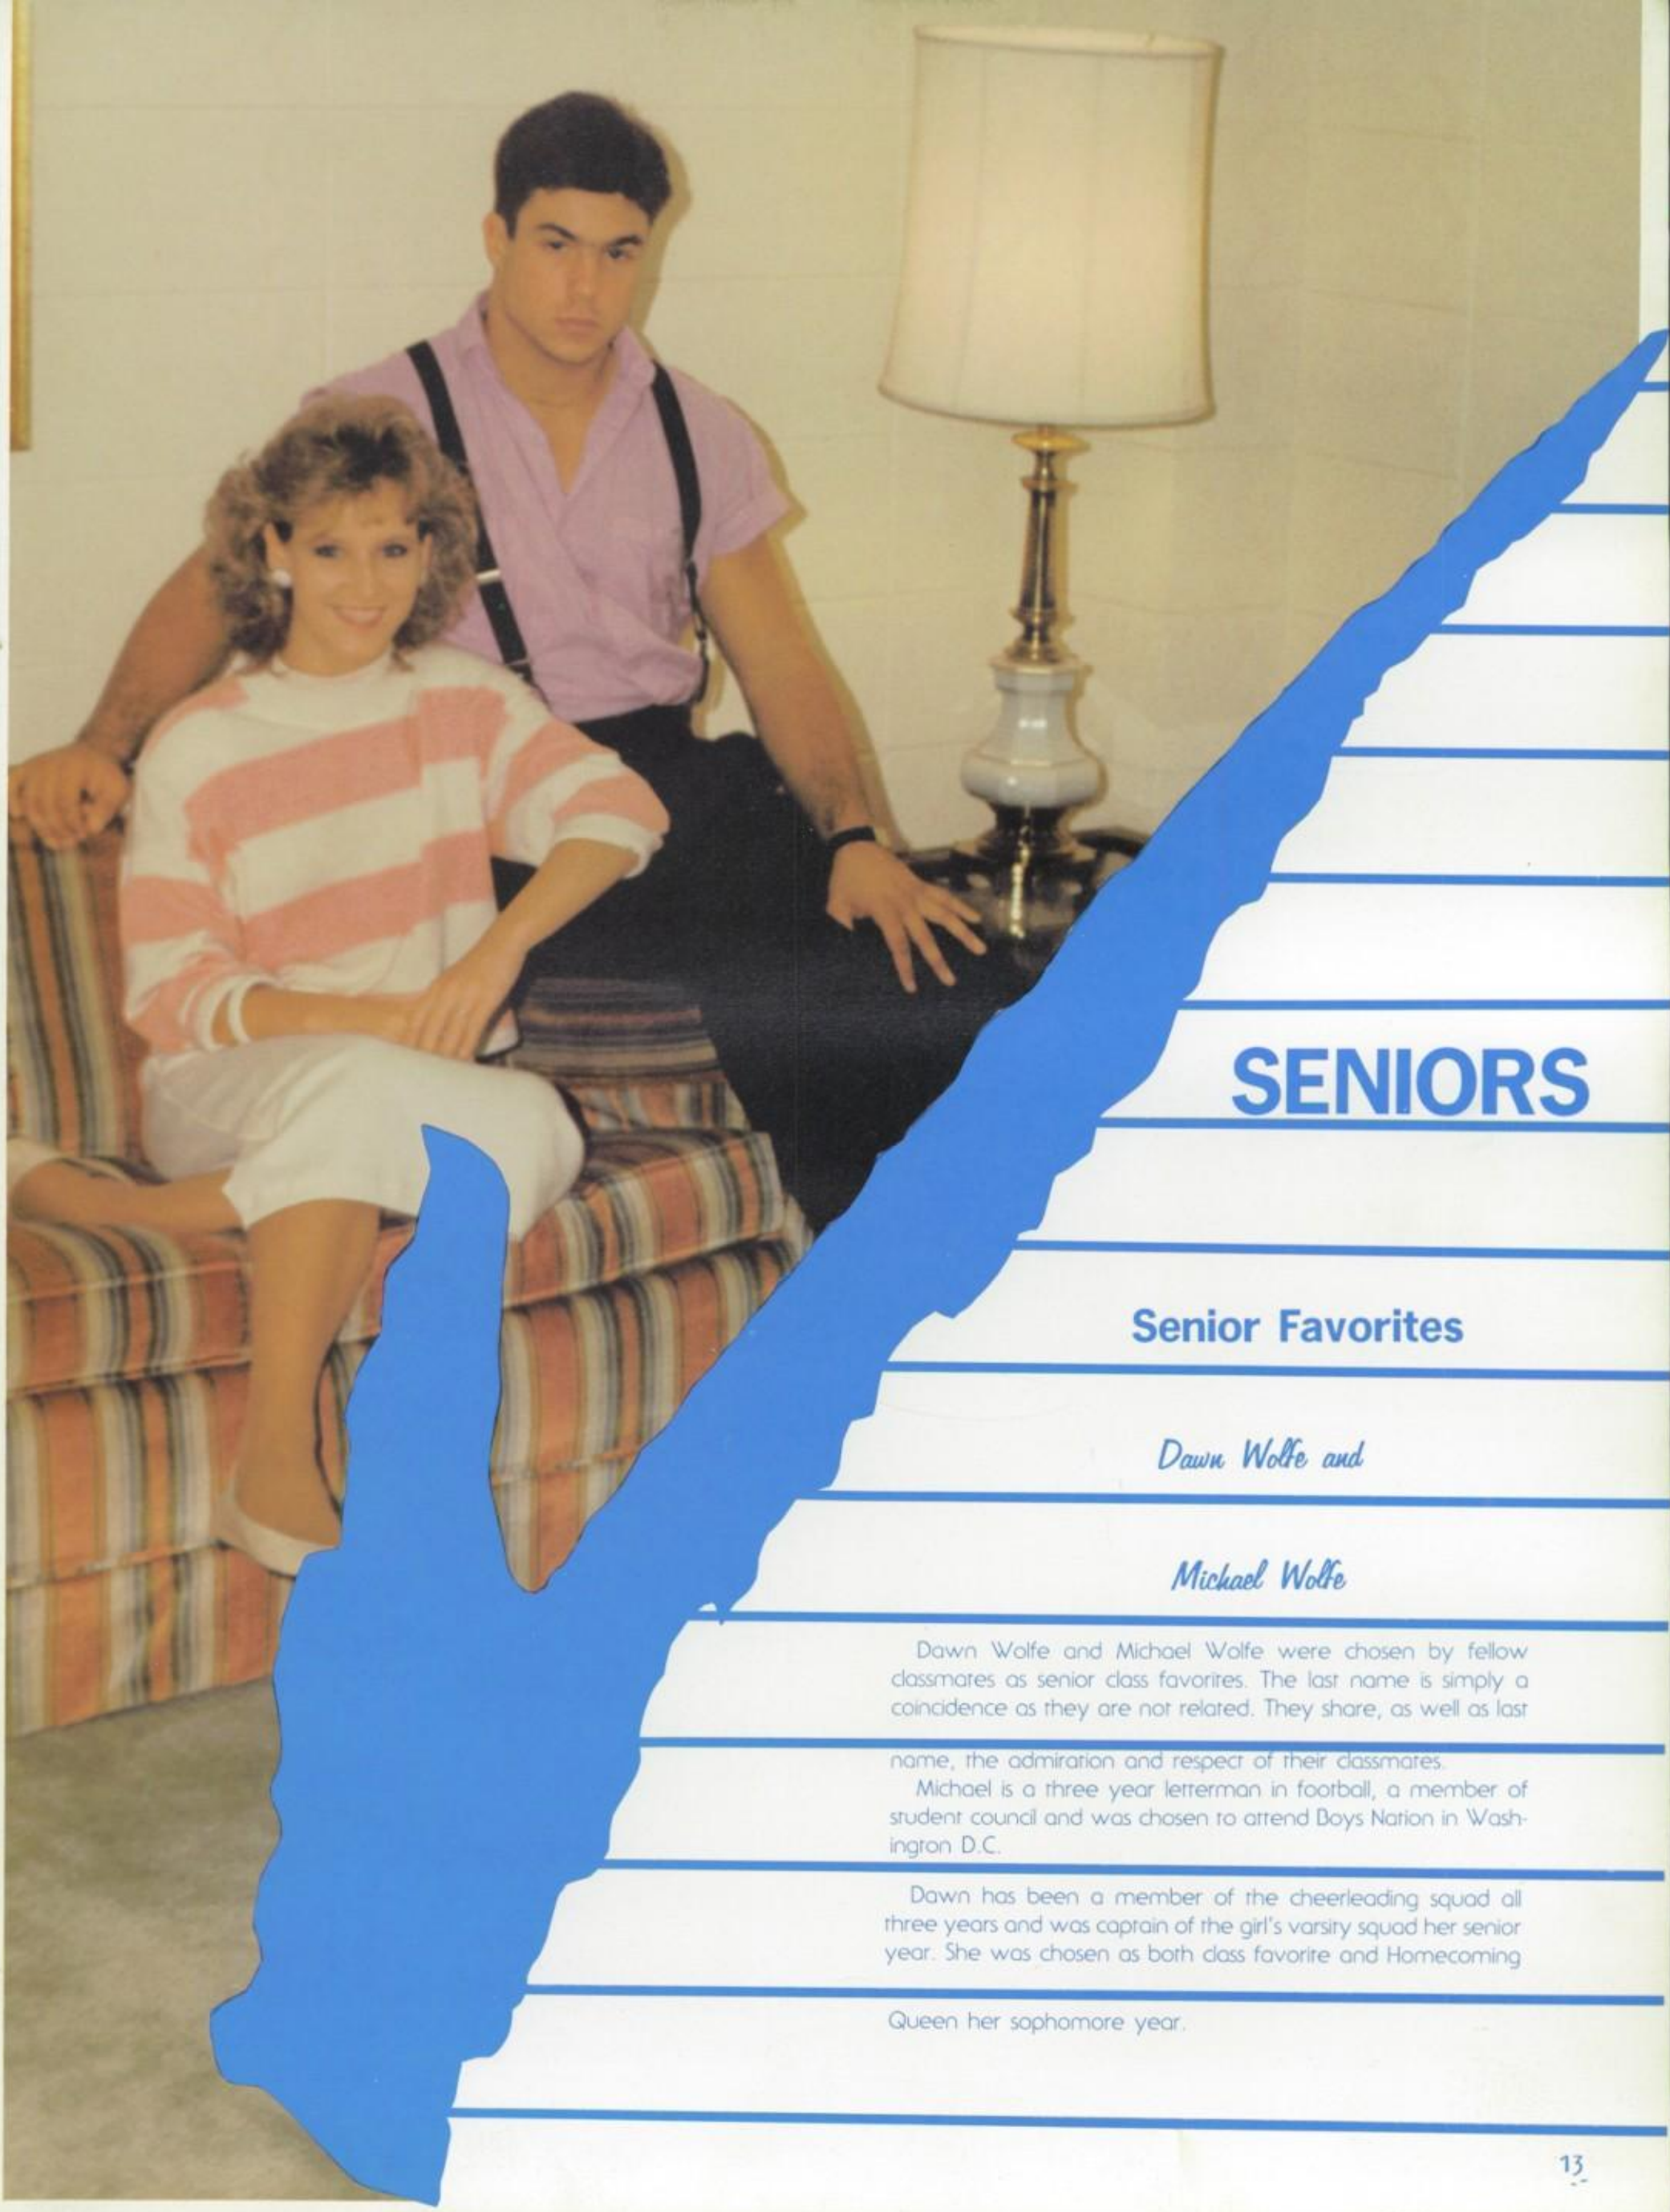
Mr. and Miss Marshall County High School are chosen each year by the entire student body. Todd Houser and Kelli Anderson were elected to represent our school as Mr. and Miss Marshall County High School for the 1987-88 school year. Todd was elected sophomore and junior class favorite. He commented on this honor by saying, "I was honored that the student body chose me for this position." Kelli has been very active throughout her high school years. She has been on the Student Council for two years and serves as president this year. Kelli has been on the Homecoming Court her junior and senior years. Kelli's reaction to this honor was, "I feel very privileged and fortunate to have been elected this honor."



Senior Favorites

Dawn Wolfe and

Michael Wolfe

Dawn Wolfe and Michael Wolfe were chosen by fellow classmates as senior class favorites. The last name is simply a coincidence as they are not related. They share, as well as last name, the admiration and respect of their classmates.

Michael is a three year letterman in football, a member of student council and was chosen to attend Boys Nation in Washington D.C.

Dawn has been a member of the cheerleading squad all three years and was captain of the girl's varsity squad her senior year. She was chosen as both class favorite and Homecoming Queen her sophomore year.

Memorial to Jamie Briggs

James Keith Briggs

James Keith Briggs was a very special individual, touching all those who knew him. Jamie as he was known to all, could always be counted on, for anything, no matter what the problem or situation. He was one who wouldn't leave you out on a limb alone. He would listen to our problems and help us with every means possible to him. Knowing him and learning from him made us all wiser and stronger in spirit. Dearly missed, our brother, gone but not forgotten.

Chad Cavitt, Mike Semenic and James Tyra

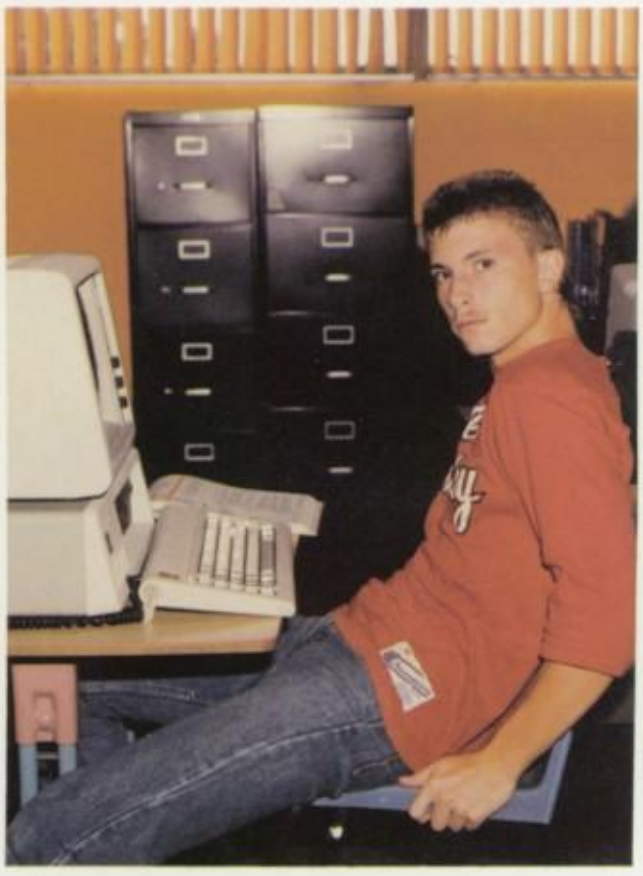
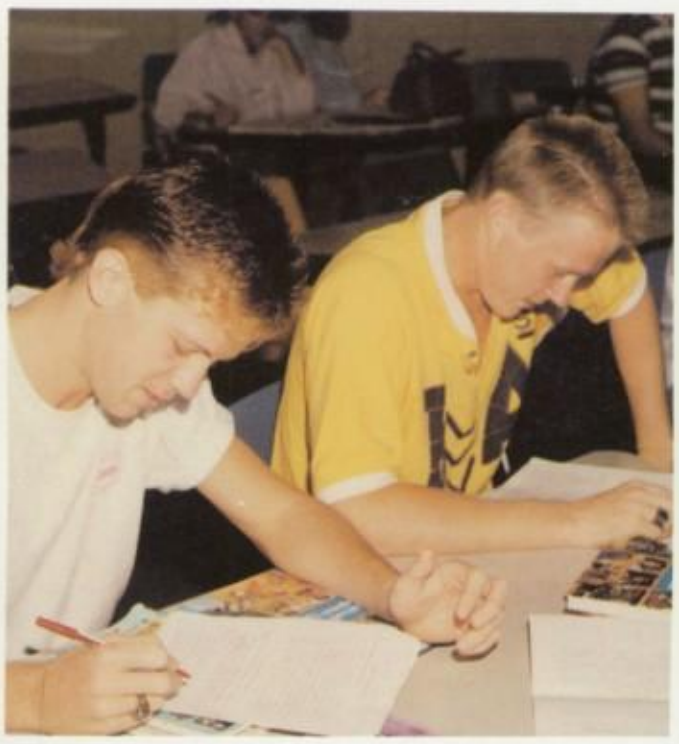
Amy Hicks seems to show symproms of narcolepsy as she almost falls asleep while talking to her friends.



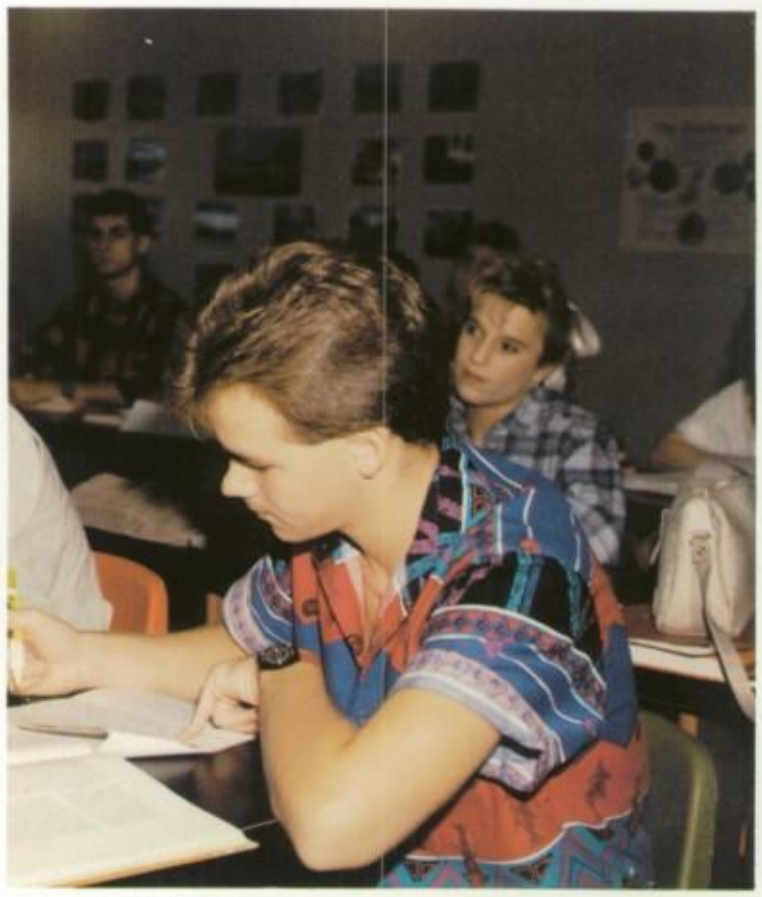
Alex Hopkins seems amazed by his compurer prinrout.



Robbie Webb and Tommy Baker work diligently to complete a Spanish assignment

While talking in the commons, Lori Jarrett pauses to show her favorite flavor of gum.

Amy Joyce, Casey Starks, and Chad Cowan enjoy each other's company in the commons area.



As Shane Maddox highlights his anatomy worksheet, Velver Barnes listens to the teacher.

Anita Vickers can easily take band practice with a smile.

Kathy Johnston's smile is a dead giveaway of her true love for school.

Roni Driver's smile and dress show that Prom is filled with happiness and fancy attire.

Troy Nelson gives a winning smile as he is pleased with the good time he's having at Prom.

While simply hanging around, Tracy Maxwell tries to prove the theory of gravity.

Prom — the most festive time of the year for many. What is it that makes this dance so special? Could it be the clothes or the decorations? Maybe it's the excitement of the preparation. After all, a dress, flowers, and a place to eat must be chosen. Whatever it is, Prom is special, and it should be, "a night when all your dreams come true."

What could senior football players Mike Lawrence, Wayne Tabor, Michael Wolfe, Jeff Stokes, Brian McClain, Kevin Riley, Troy Nelson, Michael Thompson, and Kent McIntyre be looking at?

Alison Travis seems to be saying, "Oh please, not today!"

Todd Houser and Robin Young enjoy each other's company as well as the food during lunch.

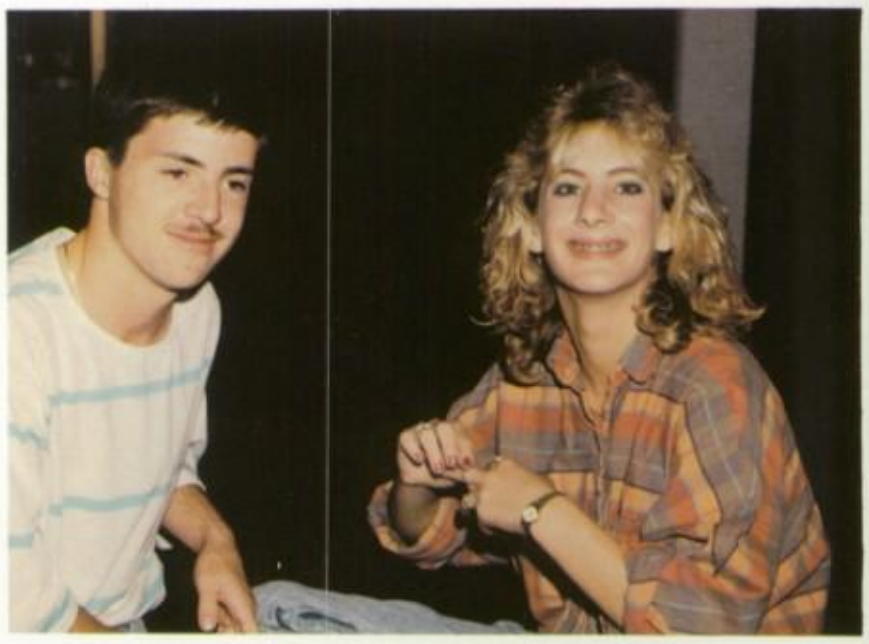
Price Coakley seems more interested in material objects, than in Tish Kinsey, who seems to be interested in him.

Friendship is a big part of high school life. Everyone needs someone to lean on, and high school is the place where special friends are really found. No matter who they are or what their relation may be, true friends always stand out! People need people — it is as simple as that.

Katherine Lewis

Michelle Chism wonders what the secret is to Julie Newton's contentment.

Brooks Sutherland and David Wolfe prove that true happiness is found in the presence of good friends.



A common sight in the commons area, Teri Pursley and Mark Vallelunga believe that the support of a fellow schoolmate provides for greater high school learning.

Kevin Riley gives his impression of Wallace Wilkinson, as he takes drastic measures to avoid being photographed.

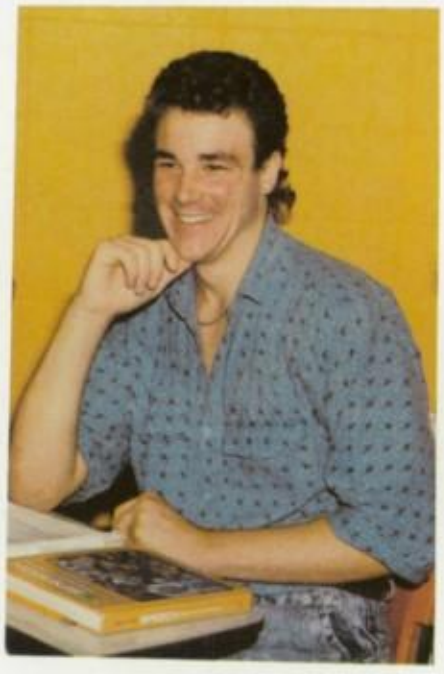
Autumn Baker shows off the latest fingernail fashions.

Though we all need help from others, the unique qualities of each one of us are important too. It is wonderful to be part of a crowd, but when we can stand alone — we can withstand almost anything.

Katherine Lewis



Brad Goheen stresses there are three rules in comedy — try to be funny, do not laugh at your own jokes and never let them see you sweat.

Tiffany Robertson takes a break from a trying assignment to glance over her shoulder and ask for a helping hand.

Shane Davis listens intently to his Spanish teacher hoping to absorb the language and become bilingual.

Rosemary Rodrigues models the latest style in business apparel while completing her secretarial duties.

Unsuspecting Rob Howard prepares to play through the show music while Chris Dees plans to play a practical joke.

Pam Johnston and Shane Morton test their driving skills in the simulators before tearing out on the highway.

Scott Coursey, Seth Drown, and Keith Castleberry do their impression of the "Three Amigos."

Jennifer Culp preoccupies herself working on a computer program hoping the faster she types the quiker the end of the day will come.

Trent Gray and Todd Miller get color coded in their adult living class. The ladies in the background are fashion consultants who attended the class to talk about color.

Amy Glick gives a scowl as she sits alone in one of the lonely halls of MCHS.

Being a senior is hard to believe. After three hard years at MCHS we've finally accomplished what had always seemed the impossible feat. We won't forget the times spent here. The pep rallies, tardy slips, ballgames, 3,5 essays and gossip sessions combine to make the high school years a lasting memory.

Juniors make their mark

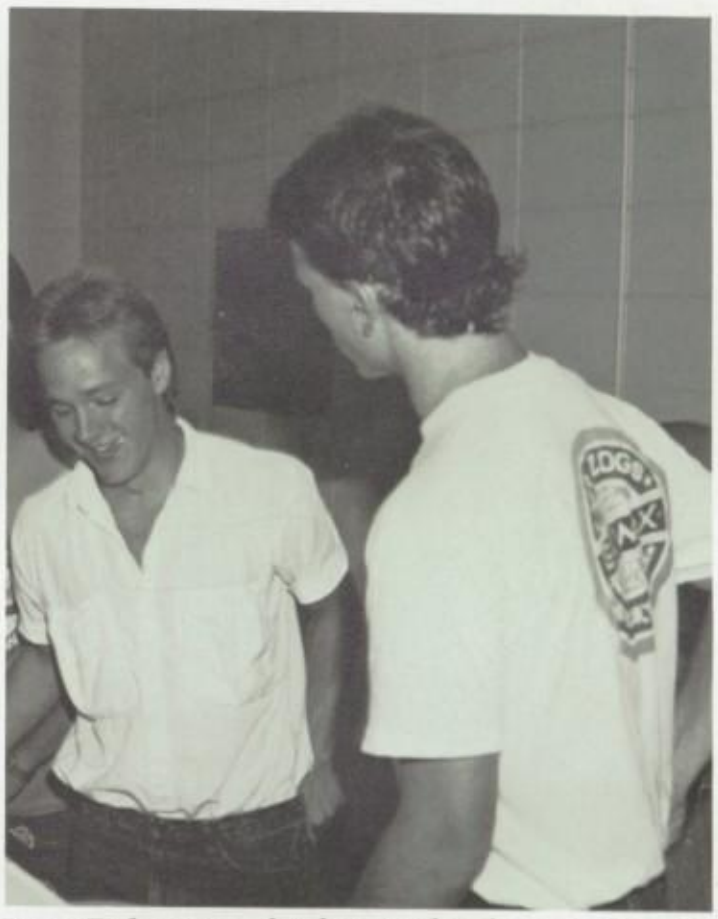
Marcus Baker gives a slight grin, as Kim Blagg smiles.

Trey Shelton pauses in the hall to flash an irresistible smile.

Krista Anderson ponders over whether to eat her roll or throw it at the person she's looking at.

Shawn Griffen grabs Lori McKendree's arm to show that they're best buddies.

Beau Hainsworth turns to check out what's going on behind him.



Ryan Bohannon, junior, and Brian Hurley, senior, pay for their lunches so they can go sit down and dig in.

The junior year is filled with happiness and disappointment. Now they've got someone to pick on, but they are still subject to senior abuse. Soon, though, they'll be seniors themselves, and they'll see what it is to "truly rule the school."

Angie Houser- Reporter; Abby Phillips- Secretary; Krista Anderson- President; Jennifer Johnson- Treasurer and Chaney Sutherland- Vice-President.

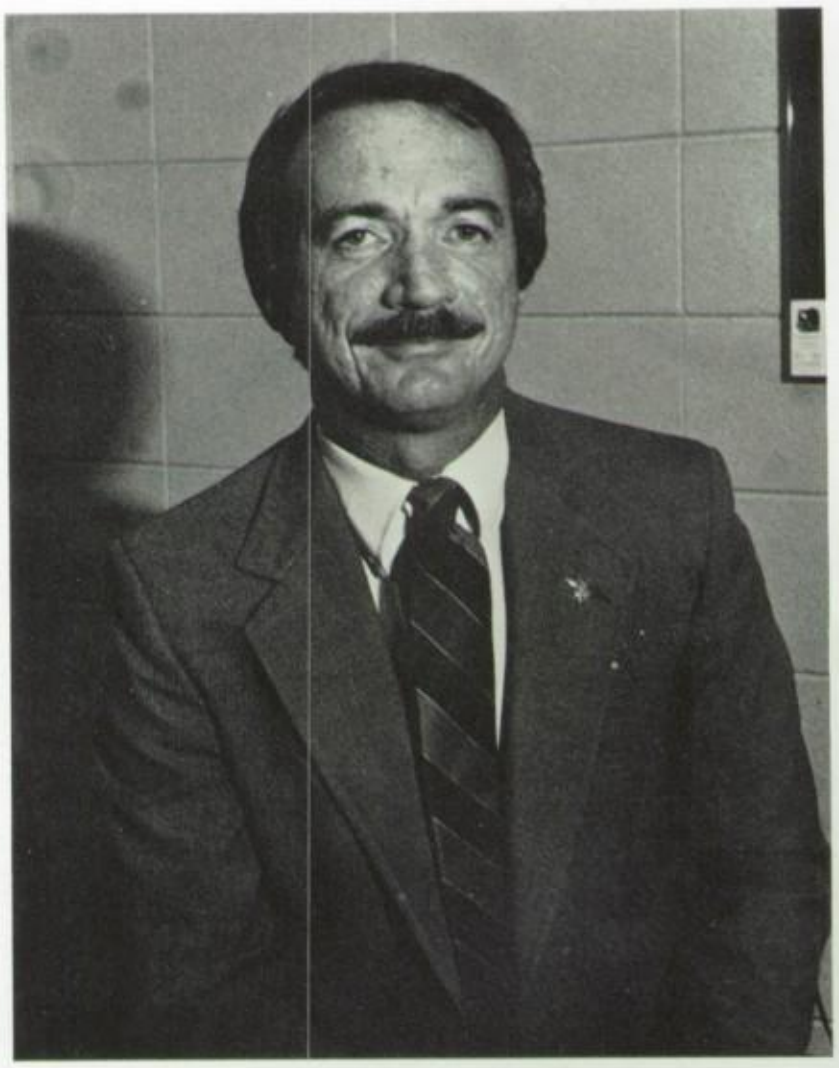
Administration

Superior Excellence

Marshall County High School's Administration

Leading the school is a very important and difficult task. Mr. Gene Brooks, principal, handles this occupation with grace. He is constantly working behind the scenes to enforce school policies.

Mr. Larry Thomasson, our assistant principal, shows responsibility as he contributes to Marshall County High School's lasting greatness.



As the assistant principal, Mr. Ed Postel, helps to guide our students. As athletic director, he leads the athletic system with great ease and style.

Guidance Counselors

Guiding our Students. . .

Counseling students is an enormous responsibility. Mrs. Ladonne Walker helps to prepare students in handling what life has to offer.

To be a counselor one has to care a great deal. Mrs. Kay Travis shows deep concern as she helps to inform and guide our students into the future.

To The Future!

Vocational School Administration

Mr. James Cothran accomplishes 14 years as principal of the vocational school. He shows great quality and perfection in being a leader.

Mrs. Marilyn Wells is positioned as the vocational school's counsler. She contributes her undivided attention to each vocational student.

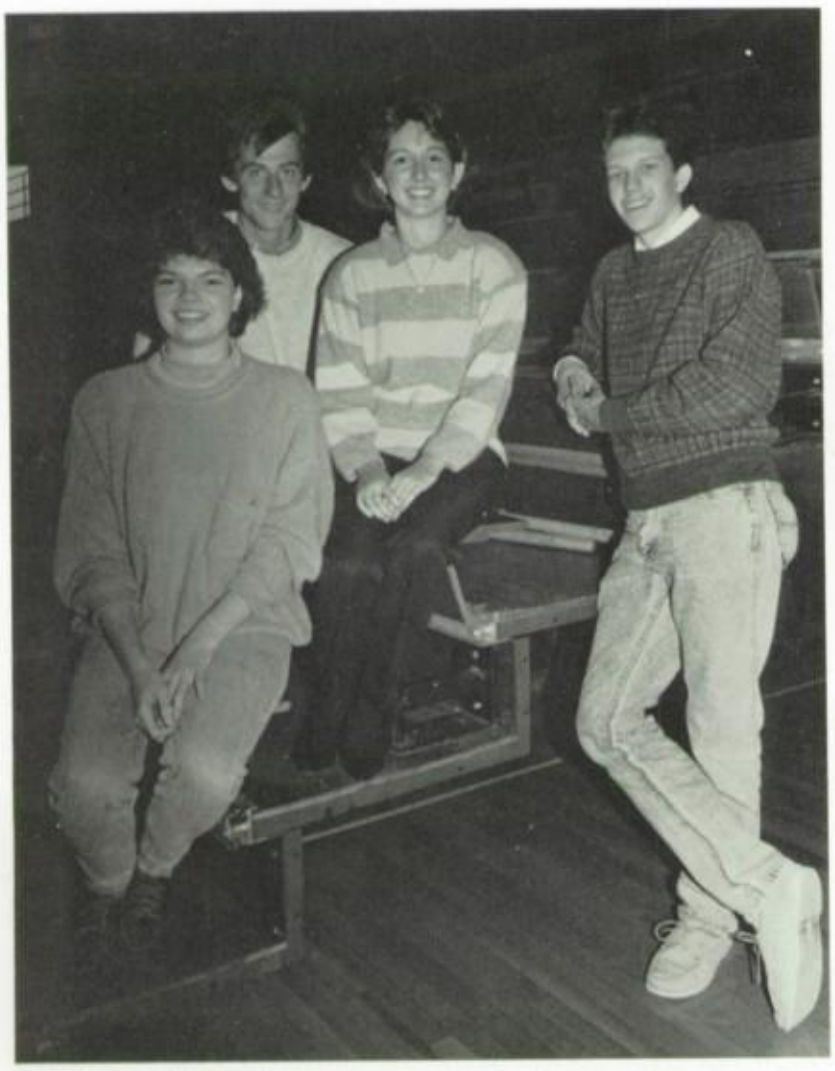
ACADEMICS

The National Honor Society officers are Diane Howe-Vice President, Gina Gullo-Secretary/Treasurer and Brad Terry-President.

The National Honor Society is the elite aspect of our academic society. To qualify for the National Honor Society a student must be a senior with at least a 3.5 grade point standing. The National Honor Society will also make a contribution to Marshall County Caring. The National Honor Society is sponsored by Mrs. Margaret Dunn.

Academic Association



Robbie Fuller- Treasurer; Joel Barrett- Vice-President; Cindy Hyde- Secretary; Adam Hobgood- President

The M.C.H.S. Academic Association is sponsored by Paula Hill and Lisa Jarrett. In the fall the Academic Association competes in academic matches on Varsity and Jr. Varsity level. These matches are something like four-a-side trivia pursuit but with just the questions. In the spring the association competes in the governors cup, which consists of written tests in English, history, science, and math. The other sections of the competition are creative expression and academic matches. But this is not to say that the association does not have any fun. They attend plays, concerts and ballets.

Alex Hopkins cannot believe the score of the game.

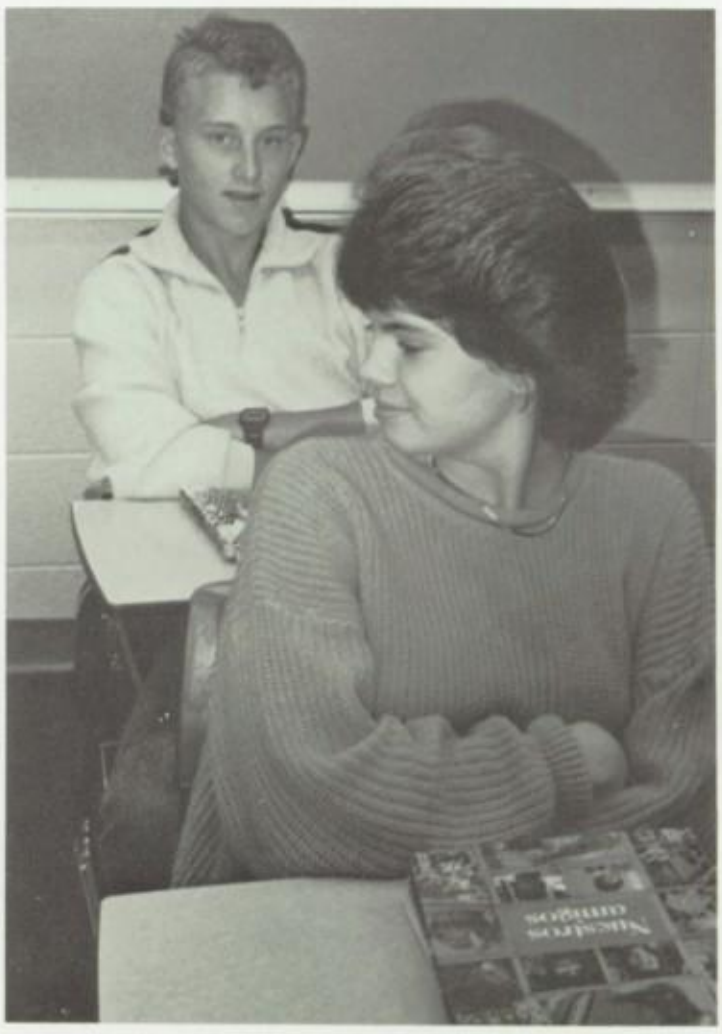
Brad Goheen gives us his look of superior intelligence.

Joel Barrett seems very pleased with his answer.



Robbie Fuller turns an ear to Matt Crosby.

Beta Club

Beta consists of those students having a 3.0 grade average or better. The Beta Club is a large and active organization. Mrs. Margaret Dunn acts as sponsor.

The Beta Club officers are Adam Hobgood- Vice President, Julie Smith- Reporter, Katherine Lewis- Treasurer, Amy Lovett- President and Brad Munson- Secretary.

The Beta Club, one of the largest at MCHS with approximately 125 members, has had an activity-filled year. In the fall, members attended the Fall District I meeting which was held at Hickman County. This year Tracy Maxwell serves as Reporter for District I which consists of 11 area schools. Also in the fall, Beta members visited Lake Haven nursing home, sent money to Kosair Children's Hospital in Louisvile and spent $70 on two Christmas Angels. The Spring District I meeting was held at MCHS.

Tracy Maxwell and Amy Lovett smile to let us know that "Coke is it!"

Beta members prepare to begin the first meeting of the school year.

Amy Hicks, Erik Sutt, Suzanne Bailey, Jay Dunigan and Tracy McGee are ready to go down for general assembly, but Chad Colburn isn't so sure.

Jason Beyer catches up on his sleep on the bus ride home from the convention.

Approximately 35 Beta members attended the State Convention in Louisville Dec. 4-6. Brad Munson, junior, placed second in his campaign for State vice-president. The campaign slogan "Brad is Bad" was put to action in a promotional skit with Scott Pullen singing his version of Michael Jackson's "Bad" while 15 other members performed a dance. .This skit won first out of 17.

Jeff Wright, Lee Davis and many other Beta members diligently work for Brad Munson's campaign for state vice-president.

Fine Arts

Our school is known for its great athletic abilities, but athletics is not the only field in which we excel. We also have made a name for ourselves in choral music, band, art and, hopefully, we will establish a great drama program. With the help of such teachers as Mrs. Ross, Mrs. Ford, Mr. Martin and Mrs. Jones, the students of Marshall county are well-rounded in their fine-arts skills.

The band director, Mr. Steve Martin, uses the VCR to show the good and bad points of the Marching Marshals' show.

Mrs. Judy Ross, choral music director, finds pleasure in leading the choir.

Our school is very proud of Mrs. Beverly Ford, art teacher, who was chosen "Kentucky Art Teacher of the Year."

Mrs. Debbie Jones, Drama Club adviser, expresses the enjoyment that teaching gives her.

Director Steve Martin instructs the band from his "perch" at the practice field.

The members of the Marshall County Marching Marshals would like to thank the Band Boosters,The Board of Education,the parents and especially Mr.and Mrs.Martin. The actions of these individuals have helped us achieve our goals. Without their help the Marshals would not have been able to purchase new uniforms,host Starfest and organize fundraisers, which enabled us to participate in the Fiesta Bowl Pageant of Bands and the parade. Your support was greatly appreciated.

Thank You,
The Marching Marshals

Kathy Simons and Renee Thweat explore the west from the American Indian's view.

Shawn Robasse collapses by the pool after an exhausting, but fun-filled week of events.

The band trip to Phoenix is something no one that went will ever forget. The trip was filled with excitement and fun, as well as serious work and the accomplishment of our goal.

Through the week, we spent time shopping at Scottsdale, playing in the snow at the Grand Canyon, and practicing our field show and parade routine to make everyone back home proud. When the awards were announced we had completed our goal. Our months of hard work paid off. We did a good show at the contest and we received third in our class at the parade and were presented the General Effect award. We made Kentucky proud. We left Phoenix knowing we had met a challenge and won. Being a senior, I can't think of a better way to end a fantastic season.

Student Government

Members of our student government were chosen by the student body in an election organized by Mr. Vaughn's political science class. The election was similar to our county elections. Voting booths were brought into the commons area, and the political science students acted as guides for students who participated in the voting.

The student council consists of five representatives from each class and the officers. The senior representatives are Roni Driver, Dawn Wolfe, Denise Barrett, Jackie Dunigan and Brad Terry. The junior representatives are Abby Phillips, Holly Morgan, Alicia Sells, Krista Anderson and Chaney Sutherland. Sophomore representatives are Misti Draffen, Tiffany Riley, Tish Kinsey, Lee Edwards and Jay Dunigan.

Student Driving

Driving Instructor Chuck Gullo, says,"Buckle up for safety everyday of your life!"-a motto he teaches in his Driver's Ed. Course. Driver's Ed. is offered to any student with a driving permit or license. The course includes book work, driving in simulators, and actually driving an automobile. Our school is the only school in this area that offers this course.

Shane Morton and Pam Johnston appear to be enjoying the simulators in Driver's Ed.

Chuck Gullo instructs several students in a semester-long Driver's Ed. course.

Coach Jim Shelton and Coach Doc Sanders try to figure out how many players they have on the field.

In the fall of 1966 at North Marshall, that would grow into one of the power houses of Western Kentucky. Football captured the competative spirit and sparked fire in Marshall County's born and bred avid sports fans.

Desire, determination and drive carried the 1987 football season with an impressive 7-3 season.

One of the factors that makes a great team is an excellent coaching staff. In helping the Marshals achieve a 7-3 record this year. Many long hours were spent computing stats, reviewing films of games and finding new ways to polish the team's overall play.

The head coach is Hiram "Doc" sanders. His assistants are Lenny Jezik, Randy Stafford, Jim Shelton, and Tom Shelton

Homecoming '87

Homecoming night. The big game. It was a cool evening when the Marshals took the field. On the opposite side of the field was Henderson County, a district rival. The two teams played a hard game, but it was the victorious Marshals who left the field smiling. At halftime was the traditional crowning of the Homecoming Queen. Seven young ladies and their escorts were introduced to the crowd. The escorts for the court are all senior lettermen.

Basketball Homecoming

KING and QUEEN

February 13, 1988, marked an historical date for Marshall County High School's basketball season. The first Homecoming King and Queen, Price Coakley and Denise Barrett, were crowned during halftime of the boy's game. The candidates were nominated by the boys and girls basketball teams and voted on by the student body. Marshall County High School's boys and girls varsity basketball teams defeated Tilghman to top the "winning" night!

Soccer

A new sport called soccer began at MCHS in 1983. That first team had a 2-14 record, but they reached the semi-finals of the regionals. Five years later the Marshals went as far as the semi-finals again, but this time they were with their first winning record, 12-10. This was a year for other firsts. This was the first year for a junior varsity team. They went 4-2-2. The final first was that the Marshals had the number one player on the All-Region team, Aaron Beth. Four other players had honorable All-Region mentions: Tommy Baker, Joel Barrett, Alex Hopkins and William Myrick.

Check out the ads!

Imagine this- sitting in the presence of a tall overpowering figure who is silently, yet impatiently waiting for you to finish your task. The nameplate, nearly hidden by his massive paperwork graveyard, reads executive president. He taps his fingers on the desk, and the sounds echo in the very veins of your heart. You try to write faster, but you only make more careless mistakes. 'Bill you?' you ask as you voice cracks and your face reddens. 'Yes,' his overpowering voice sounds. You could swear he's thinking,'I've got better things to do; so hurry it up kid.' You finish in a fluster and ask him to sign. He does and begins to walk away. 'Excuse me sir,' you say in a small voice,'here's your carbon copy.' This is a somewhat exaggerated scene of an ad selling.

All yearbooks must have sponsors or advertisers. In the past years The Star has received county-wide and even out-of-county support, and we are very grateful for all the encouragement.

Each member of the annual staff was supposed to sell $400 in ads in order to pay for this yearbook. Selling began in July and ended in January. The layout was done during school.

We'd like to express our deepest gratitude to all of our patrons,

Book Reviews

"Too many pictures of certain seniors."

"I don't really look like that!"

"I thought our info was supposed to be for our pictures."

"I thought the cover was supposed to be white?!"

my eyes are closed.

"my name is spelled wrong! Again..."

The time has come to take a parting glance and say our fond farewells as another edition of the yearbook and another year come to an end. For all students this is a time of celebration, but for seniors the happiness is also mixed with some sadness, too.

Sophomores will finally get to shake the 'new kid on the block' feeling. After all, next year they'll also have the freshman to direct to the 'third floor swimming pool.' The juniors have finally made it. They're in charge. They still have one reality to face- being a senior isn't all fun and games. They have plenty of work ahead of them and some important decisions to make before they graduate. Seniors are preparing for their 'new lives.' Friends are getting ready to separate and attend different colleges, enter the armed forces, or start work. They're realizing this is it, we're on our own.

The staff has done its best to put together a yearbook that will reflect the '87-'88 year. The yearbook was printed by Josten's Yearbook Co. in Clarksville, Tenn. The professional photography was done by Gene Boaz Studio. Photographs were also provided by the Tribune Courier, the Lake News and Ray Foust.

The theme ending this year seems to be 'out with the old and in with the new.' This was the first year for a basketball homecoming and the last year for a three-year high school. This year marks the end of an era, an era that has lasted 36 years. Superintendent, Reed Conder, will be retiring. Mr. Conder has many fond memories of his years at Marshall County. 'I see my greatest accomplishment in the finish of the 1966 plan to join the county schools into one high school, two junior highs and five elementary schools.'

Good luck to you, Mr. Conder, and we hope the next superintendent will be equally successful in making this county's schools the best that they can be, for the staff of '88 in 'checking' over the years has found a number of achievements for which we can all be proud.

We would like to say farewell to those behind us at MCHS. We've put our hearts and souls into this book so that we can all remember our high school years. We apologize for our mistakes, our conflicting points of view and our oversights. We want you to love this book as much as we do, and we hope in return that you will overlook our errors and appreciate our efforts.

The 87-88 Annual Staff

RESERVED for Melissa

Sis,

So the sweetest girl and friend I've ever had. I have a feeling we're going to be friends for a long, long time. You were right, us fighting has brought us closer together, lots closer. Sis I want you to remember that whenever you need someone to talk to, laugh with, a shoulder to cry on, someone to lean on, or just to have someone around I will always be here, no matter what. I hope that everything turns out the way you want it to because, girl, you sure do deserve it. I also think that you and Jamie are just perfect for each other. I wish you lots of luck in everything you do, and as I said before I will always be here for you. Well sis my handwriting is getting sloppy as always. I hope you marry Jamie like you want to and I hope I get somewhere with Robert, but only time and patients can tell. See ya later sis.
